JoElla Carman

EXPERIENCE

The Urban Institute
Data Visualization, 2019–Present

Design and build data visualizations communicating Urban's research; edit charts for blog, Urban Wire

CNN Politics
Interactive Designer (Contract), 2018–19

Created graphics and photo illustrations for top stories, including the 2018 midterm election and government shutdown of 2019

National League of Cities
Principal Associate, Visual Design & Marketing, 2017–18

Print and digital design for research reports, data visualizations, interactive work, social media content, marketing copywriter

Social Progress Imperative
Graphic Designer, 2015–16

Designed and developed communication tools for quality-of-life index, including data visualization, maps, and print design

Graphicacy
Information Graphic Designer/Developer, 2014–15

Crafted custom interactives for clients at creative analytic design agency and contributed to print data graphic posters of sister company, Timeplots

NPR
Librarian II, 2005–13

Investigated story ideas, performed fact-finding and problem solving in support of reporters, producers and editors working on daily broadcast and digital news platforms

SKILLS

Design Adobe CC (Illustrator, InDesign, Photoshop), Figma

Build D3, JavaScript, HTML/CSS, Git, Mapbox

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Visual Design
General Assembly, 2015

Web Development Immersive
General Assembly, 2014

UX Research Methods
University of Baltimore, 2013

EDUCATION

St John's College
BA, Liberal Arts

Dominican University
MLIS

(202) 445-9705
jstraley@gmail.com

joellacarman.github.io